I fully support this petition. Morse code is an essential aspect of the Amateur Service. It is crucial in emergency low-power communications, where a computer may not be available to decode other digital modes. Amateur Radio is a skilled technical service and should remain so. Morse code is an important skill; the testing requirement should be retained and its use encouraged.